The Home Page:

Works as page that introduces people to the bakery

About Us Page:

Introduces people about the members of the bakery

Products Page:

Shows people what the bakery sells

Media Pages:

Where they post stuff made by community members for them

Information Page:

It is where the table of the hours are found for the bakery

Contact Form:

It is where people can preorder food or suggest food ideas directly.

All other assets were created crudely by developer of the website: So, credit them.

Base wireframe used this template roughly this template:

Breaky Bakery

Gradient is in website over whole thing and steadier and slower and slightly weaker in actual site
